Government Building Nearing Completion.

The Government Building which has been under construction for several months, is rapidly nearing completion. Interior workmen have been engaged during the past week in setting the tiling, plastering and putting on the finishing touches. All that remains now to be done is the plumbing work, which will require some time to complete the heavy steam heating apparatus having been installed and is in working order. Architect Driscoll, who has been superintending the construction of the building hopes to have everything in readiness to turn the building over to the government by the first of February. The work of laying concrete around the building and beautifying the grounds will be postponed until warmer weather.

Educational Figures.

The Kentucky Department of Education has issued the fourth official bulletin containing much information concerning the schools. The compensation of County Superintendents varies from $1,500 paid by half a dozen counties down to $400 paid by Powell and two other counties. The pay of City Superintendents of cities of the fourth class varies from $1,800 in Ashland and Paris to $1,000 in Pineville and Georgetown. The number of teachers in cities of this class range from 37 in Ashland to 8 in Russellville.

Arrested of Attempted Assault.

Dick Bentley, the negro suspected of the attempted assault on Miss Ethel Warren in Lawrenceburg last Monday evening, as she was returning to her home was arrested in Shelbyville Friday.

Miss Warren, after her narrow escape from the man, ran to the home of H. B. Ripy, who started for the scene and thought he recognized Bentley as a person he passed coming toward town. Coming on down town and going into a saloon he saw Bentley, who hurried out and escaped, perhaps thinking that he was being sought.

One of the police officers of the town says that he passed this same man near his home in the southern part of the city a short time after the crime, but at the time knew nothing of the attempted assault.

Miss Warren, the victim, claims to have bitten her assailant on the hand when he attempted to smother her cries, and the news from Shelbyville is that Bentley is bitten through the fore finger of the right hand.

Officials from Lawrenceburg went to Shelbyville Friday night and took charge of the prisoner who was delivered to the jailer in Louisville for safe keeping. On the train enroute from Shelbyville to Louisville a brief trial was held by the officials of Anderson county and the evidence in the hurried examination of the negro was deemed sufficient to hold the prisoner. His examining trial will be held on January 14. Bentley claims he can prove an alibi.

Dr. Gardner Selected.

Governor Wilson Saturday appointed Dr. Thomas W. Gardner as a member of the State Board of Control of Charitable institutions for a four year term to succeed himself. Before becoming a member of the Board of Control Dr. Gardner was connected with the Eastern Asylum at Hopkinsville.

"Noble" Turns Out to be Miller.

"Bad Jake" Noble, the Breathitt county outlaw, is still at large, but by reason of the arrest at Williamson, W. Va., of a man supposed to be Noble, Breathitt county nevertheless comes into possession of another man who was wanted at Jackson on a charge of murder.

Sheriff Hudson, of Breathitt, arrived in Williamson last week and identified the man under arrest as E. C. Miller, who, it is alleged, killed John Bush, three years ago and later escaped from the jail at Jackson. He was surrendered to the Kentucky authorities.

Favor Woman Suffrage.

A majority of the members of the Kentucky Press Association went on record, just before the adjournment of the mid-winter meeting at Louisville, as favoring woman suffrage in so far as the privilege of franchise may be exercised on matters pertaining to schools and education. No formal action was taken, but the Editors informally declared that they would advocate extension of the franchise to women of the State to vote for school trustees.

Feeble-Minded Institute a Model.

State Inspector and Examiner McKenzie Todd, in his report to Governor Wilson, points out the Kentucky Institute for Feeble Minded of this city as a model school and home for weakminded children. He comments favorably on the Department of Domestic Science. He also speaks favorably of the Manual Training Department and the Kindergarten. Todd says that in the Educational Department the children are well instructed in reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling, simple history, geography nature study and physical culture.
